Application Form

Receipt Deadline: December 15, 2021

The 2022 Paul Kayser/RRF Global Award carries a prize of $50,000, funded by a permanent endowment from the Retina Research Foundation for the most original, previously unpublished paper in recognition of outstanding achievement in visual science with preference given in the specialized field of research on the retina and vitreous.

The purpose of the award is to identify and recognize a vision science professional whose work has made a significant new contribution to knowledge about improving vision and prevention of blindness. The prize will be awarded at the opening session of the 35th Pan-American Congress of Ophthalmology in Buenos Aires, Argentina, April 13-16, 2022. The selected paper will be a featured part of the 35th Pan-American Congress.

The awardee (first author) must be:

- ❖ Between 35-65 years of age at the time of submission of his/her paper;
- ❖ An MD or PhD who is affiliated with an accredited institution;
- ❖ An Active Member of the Pan-American Association of Ophthalmology.

The candidate must submit the COMPLETE MANUSCRIPT ELECTRONICALLY IN PDF FORMAT, including illustrations and tables. While English is preferred, the manuscript may be submitted in any of the three official languages of the PAAO, English, Spanish or Portuguese. DO NOT indicate the authors' names on the pages of the manuscript.

If selected for the award, the winning author is required to attend the 34th Congress in Cancun, Mexico, to receive the prize at the Opening Ceremony and to present the paper on the scheduled day. The winning author is responsible for his/her own travel, housing arrangements and expenses.

Manuscript Preparation

Manuscripts should be prepared in accordance with the American Medical Association Manual of Style and/or the Uniform Requirements for Manuscripts Submitted to Biomedical Journals (www.icmje.org).

Manuscripts should begin each component on a new page and be in the following order: (1) title page; (2) structured abstract; (3) text; (4) references; (5) figure legends; (6) tables; and (7) figures.

1. Title Page: Specify the full title; each author's name, highest academic degree or degrees, and affiliation. Indicate the name, mailing address, telephone, fax, and email address of the corresponding author, who will be responsible for all questions about the manuscript.
2. Structured abstract: Provide a structured abstract of 250 words or less with the following four headings: Purpose, Methods, Results, Conclusions.
3. Text: Number the pages of the manuscript consecutively, beginning with the title page 1. Place the manuscript title on each page. DO NOT indicate the authors' names on the pages of the manuscript.

4. References: References should be numbered consecutively in the order in which they are first mentioned in the text. Identify references in text, tables, and legends by Arabic numerals in parentheses. References cited only in tables or figure legends should be numbered in accordance with the sequence established by the first identification in the text of the particular table or figure. The titles of journals should be abbreviated according to the style used in Index Medicus.
5. Figure Legends: Type or print out legends for illustrations using double spacing, starting on a separate page, with Arabic numerals corresponding to the illustrations. When symbols, arrows, numbers, or letters are used to identify parts of the illustrations, identify and explain each one clearly in the legend. Explain the internal scale and identify the method of staining in photomicrographs.
6. Tables: Type or print each table with double spacing on a separate sheet of paper. Number tables consecutively in the order of their first citation in the text and supply a brief title for each. Do not use internal horizontal or vertical lines. Give each column a short or abbreviated heading. Authors should place explanatory matter in footnotes, not in the heading. Explain in footnotes all nonstandard abbreviations.
7. Figures: Figures should be numbered consecutively according to the order in which they have been first cited in the text. If a figure has been published, acknowledge the original source and submit written permission from the copyright holder to reproduce the material. Permission is required irrespective of authorship or publisher except for documents in the public domain.

Submission Procedures:

- The applicant must complete the official form with the required manuscript.
- Letters of reference must be sent directly to the Paul Kayser/RRF Global Award Selection Committee.
- The applicant shall not send videos or similar presentations, books or published papers. All submitted materials become property of the Pan-American and cannot be returned.
- All application materials and supporting letters for the 2022 award must be received no later than December 15, 2021.
- Upload all application materials to <https://www.hightail.com/u/PAAO-PAOF> with "Kayser Global Award Application" in the subject line.
